This has been a gradual process of evolution over the 25 years that he's been performing to a point where it really can't be called DJing anymore. He's taken the techniques and inspiration from this live creative process and distilled them into these four tracks. 'Convenience Trap' follows on from the techniques learned in his 'Bland Ambition' release also on Dynamic Tension. Always pushing forward against the plague of mediocrity

LIEBE DETAIL	ANGELO BATTILANI / EFDEMIN - EMPTY / LOHN & BROT	8.70 €
LIEBE014		12"
MINIMAL-HOUSE / MINIMAL	RE-STOCK	DEU

A1	According to their policy of promoting fresh talent, Liebe Detail feature 20 year old Italian Angelo Battilani from Ravenna on the flipside. He has released one ep on the Milan based label Stereoseven Plus so far. His track here is not as empty as the track title suggests, although you can certainly label it „minimal“, in which „Empty“ is not referring to the genre so much in an deranged afterhour sense. It rather focusses on highly dynamic beats, which slightly shift during the course of nine and a half minutes. Using only a few, precisely set elements, Battilani turns this one into a rocking tool that, despite its straightforwardness, manages to roll flexibly. After Phillip Sollmann aka Efdemin has finished his studies at the Institute For Computer music in Vienna, he moved to Berlin, where he has found a lot of opportunities to engage himself intensively with Techno and House again. His track „Bergwein“ on Dial and his work as Pigon on Just together with Oliver Kargl are an impressive evidence of the rekindled love affair with this music.

LOGISTIC	ROBERT HOOD - APARTMENT ZERO	12.90 €
LOG016RE		12"
TECHNO / DETROIT	RE-STOCK	FRA

A1	Robert Hood makes minimal Detroit techno with an emphasis on soul and experimentation over flash and popularity. Having recorded for Metroplex as well as the Austrian Cheap label, the French label Logistic and Jeff Mills' Axis label, Hood also owns and operates the M- Plant imprint, through which he's released the bulk of his solo material. Today Logistic decides to repress the "Apartment Zero ep" as it's one of the best of Robert Hood's typical unique techno style full of jazz and soul flavour

	MADE TO PLAY	JAN DRIVER - RAT ALERT	8.80 €
	MTP018		12"
	TECH-HOUSE / TRIBAL / ELECTRO-HOUSE	RE-STOCK	DEU
A1	"There's a rat in the kitchen what am I gonna do? There's a rat in the kitchen what am I gonna do?...I'm gonna teach that rat that's what I'm gonna do, I'm gonna teach that rat, that's what I'm gonna do"... sang UB40 back in the day but these days the best way to teach a rat to dance is to hit it with the latest Made to Play release from Jan Driver. The shadowy figure that is Jan Driver lurks in the depths of the Berlin dance scene and only exposes himself to strangers in the park and via the medium of unleashing massive sonically charged dance floor bombs like "Rat Alert". For more than twelve years he has been producing on labels as diverse as Polydor, AM:PM, Virgin, Southern Fried and Klang Electronik as well as his own imprint, Grandpetrol. This release is causing a massive stir with the heads that matter including Roland Rat, Ratty out of Wind in the Willows, Stuart Little, Splinter and most importantly Dean Gaffney aka Rat Robby out of Eastenders who uses it to ease the pain of being an unemployed actor. Whether you're a cat, rat or straight up f*at you need to buy this, love it, play it and scare the sh*t out of the local vermin in a club near you

	SPECTRAL REBEL	ABSTRACT DIVISION - DIVERGENT EP (MIKE STORM & RE:AXIS RMXS)	10.50 €
	SPR007		12"
	TECHNO		FRA
A1	Back to the vinyl rules, Spectral Rebel is proud to present its collaboration with the Dutch duo Abstract Division, featuring two originals and two remixes by Mike Storm and Re:Axis. The good architecture of "Convergent" opens the EP with a slow but strong climax, hypnotic rhythms and ambient sounds create an elegant atmosphere, surrounded by a resonant voice. "Divergent" shows a deeper concept of techno: the emotional melody keeps the track into a new landscape, merging with a heavy basslines. Mike Storm is a familiar name to the label. His remix reshapes the original track "Convergent" and takes us into an interstellar trip through the cosmos. The atmosphere is intense. Re:Axis version of "Divergent" is a high-energy piece and it's definitely the powerful techno punch of this EP. Classic drum sounds combine with vibrating kicks and some loopy cuts. SPR007 is an ecstasy for ears and a proper bang for dancefloors

SYMBOLISM	VARIOUS ARTISTS - STANDING BEFORE THE UNKNOWN (PAUL MAC, RODION STANKEVICH, JOTON, MIKE GERVAIS, MIKE STORM, JOTON & BEN SIMS)	20.20 €
SYM020		2x12"
TECHNO		GBR

A1	Ben Sims' Symbolism celebrates its 20th release with an 8 tracker featuring the first original Ben Sims material in the past few years. Launched in 1999, Symbolism was initially intended as side project of Sims' Theory imprint but quickly developed in to a standout label itself with releases from Sims (as Aural Emote), Exos, Reeko and a split release with Function hitting home on the circuit. After a 9 year hiatus Symbolism was reactivated in in 2015 and has since dropped 12's from the likes of Mike Gervais, D_Func, JC & Kastil and George Tounisidis, 'Standing Before The Unknown' is a heavy package from start to finish and takes in a number of tones while remaining firmly dancefloor focused. Paul Mac's solo contribution 'Off a Cliff' kicks things off in typically pristine style while 'Ishishish', his collaboration with Sims, is a rougher, percussive affair that marks a fine return to the studio for Sims. Russia's Rodion Stankevich makes two contrasting appearances; first with the abrasive 'Umustgothruif' and later with intricately layered and hypnotic 'Any Questions Any Answers'
