	BASS AGENDA	ZETA RETICULA - EXPLOIT EP	12.40 €
	BA090		12"
	ELECTRO	180 grams	GBR
A1	Legend mode has been switched on for Bass Agenda Recordings 90th release, with UMEK s Electro alias Zeta Reticula bringing his distinctive floor filling sound on vinyl and digital formats. In his own words I think this is the best Zeta Electro I have made since EP 2 A1 . For those who need telling, track A1 on his infamous EP 2 on Billy Nasty s equally infamous Electrix label remains one of the genres benchmark tracks for high energy, techno tinged Electro. A classic, and to say this is his best work since is quite a statement especially given the high quality of his releases in general and particularly in the last couple years when this alias came back with a vengeance. Already receiving early support from Dave Clarke on his mighty Whitenoise show, these four new tracks are killers , bombs , fire , heaters , and all the other words Electro heads reserve for the good stuff. These are the kind of tracks that unlock that extra energy reserve a weary raver finds when they hear them. Driving, powerful rhythms and infectious hooks from start to finish. Gear changing Electro music at it s best. One for the heads and an honour to release on Bass Agenda

	IRON OXIDE	ANDRES ANDREAS - FROZEN ACID (REGIS RMX)	8.90 €
A1 B1	Iron Oxide continues on its mission to bring good hard techno to the world, this time showing that acid techno doesn't have to mean 'Stay up forever', London squat parties, or 160bpm! Keeping the tempo down to a very reasonable (but still energetic) level, Andres Andreas (who recently went head-to-head with Hardfloor on their 'Versus Series 2' release) bring a slightly old-school sounding, but nevertheless effective, hard acid jam. Raw production and tough drum programming (and of course a suitably tweaked 303 line) ensure the correct dancefloor response with this one! Regis meanwhile treads the road less travelled with a remix that incorporates bleeding-edge production techniques with his own uniquely bleak industrial-esque touches to create a whirring and crunching interpretation that will inevitably find a home with many of today's adventurous techno cognoscenti. Sometimes you just have to acknowledge that not all party music is about smiling...this in one for that 'heads down until the smoke clears' moment...

	MONOTONE	EXZAKT - ELECTROLOGY (214 RMX)	15.40 €
	MON018		12"
	ELECTRO / BREAKS		USA
A1	Exzakt's first EP on Monotone since 2007 is a collection of various tracks that have not been on vinyl. This tracks were hand selected by fans out of 17 tunes to chose from. First we have Madrid Nights which has been only heard in Exzakt DJ sets and was a fan favorite that has often been requested for release but has not until now. This song is a deep look into Exzakt's progression in his sound. This track explores many emotions through ever changing soundscapes. A2 is an excellent remix of Larry McCormick's Escape track which originally released on Datapunk in 2004. 214 completely dismantles the parts to make a unique composition that turns into a journey and its perfectly fit for a proper vinyl release. The B starts with an Exzakt Classic that from the start screams to be heard on wax. Me & My 808 is a heavy, ripping tune that will service any dance floor. Last is an emotional piece that you can tell from the title, Love Hate. Again Exzakt goes deep on this one but still keeps the beat pumping like his tracks often do. This is another solid Exzakt Record that should be in any Electro Collectors record box

MONOTONE	VARIOUS ARTISTS - MONOTRAX VOLUME 2 (THE HACKER, LARRY McCORMICK, COSMIC FORCE &amp; DEFEKT)	15.00 €
MON019		12"
ELECTRO		USA

A1	Banging Electro from The Hacker, Larry McCormick, Cosmic Force &amp; DeFeKT. Hot off the heels of Monotrax Volume 1, Monotone is not letting up with this vinyl only compilation of what could be considered some of the best Electro has to offer. To prove that things get started by legend The Hacker with this pure Electro outing. This one is a littler slower but still a powerful number that will put you into the groove. The second cut on this plater comes from the Monotone boss himself with Root Code. This is actually one of the hot tracks from his Intelectro album however this has not seen wax until now. This jam picks things up with his patented solid drum patterns while the rhythms build up until the middle breaks off into epic keys that lift the track even higher until the end drop into the bass. Side B starts off with the Dutch hero Cosmic Force. Maximilian of Roma is a hybrid of grooves and textures throughout. The energy on this carries the track throughout. Just the unique composition you expect from the Utrecht ninja! Last but not far from least. The Irish man comes with a nice riding flow as DeFeKT shows why he is one of the hottest Electro/Techno artists at the moment.

MTRON010		12"
ELECTRO		DEU

A1	Cestrian (aka Ali Renault) lands on Mechatronica for the Berlin label's 10th release with a remarkably wide electro-driven EP, exploring different rims of the genre from the transporting melodic peripheries and weirder edges, to the raw core. Two hypnotizing journeys in "Gradients" and "Rake &amp; Pikel" make up the A-side along with the frenzied styles of "Cat Strain". "Speak &amp; Spell" blasts open the flip with an anthemic groove and potent basslines, before "The Weir" rounds off the EP in heavy and atmospheric fashion, concluding an essential electro record - for the mind and for the floor

NICZ	VARIOUS ARTISTS - IN MEMORY OF (STANISLAV TOLKACHEV, VSK, ONTHEGROUND &amp; JOEFARR)	11.20 €
NCZ007		12"
TECHNO		DEU

A1	NCZ007, 'In Memory Of,' brings together Stanislav Tolkachev, VSK, JoeFarr and ONTHEGROUND for a 4 track compilation. Each artist has contributed a track to the general theme of 'broken techno,' with outstanding, stylistically diverse results. 'Ant Parade' by Stanislav Tolkachev opens the record with a hypnotic march. Over a gently lulling rhythm, a bright melody repeats over an eerie and disorientating soundscape. VSK's 'Blue Snake' ratchets up the energy, with skittering percussion and tense, murky bleeps propelling the track frantically onwards. Nicz records owner Myztical teams up again with Diagenetic Origin as ONTHEGROUND on 'Interstellar Gardening.' A sonorous melody emerges from rattling beats, serving up a heavy communion of intangible, elusive euphoria and melancholy. JoeFarr concludes the record with 'I am a Visitor.' Staccato kicks and fuzzed out synths stretch and twist, while a dislocated, brash voice announces itself to the listener

Back with its tenth iteration in near half a decade of intense activity, the Rotterdam-via-Berlin based outlet is set to enter a new aesthetic cycle, sloughing its old skin for a brighter, all the more edgy one. Not content with counting some of the finest names in today's techno landscape on board in the persons of Oscar Mulero, Psyk, Sterac and Dimi Angelis, 'RYCL010 - Amsterdam/Madrid' is the occasion for Reclaim Your City to take a new breath and explore deeper the intrinsic values and key-words that make for the label's characteristic motive: music, energy, action, city, quality, art, underground, activism, rebellion, global community

Kastil and I-Real have been releasing joint efforts since 2014. The occasional duo have perfected the boisterous techno they hold dear, and showcase their new approach on the gloomy 'Black Birds All Over' and the audacious sounding 'Skandha'. 'Black Birds All Over' is a lurid sounding effort that revolves around a monotonous roar and skillfully places drums and fx sounds that cut across the spectrum like daggers. Canadian duo Orphx delivers an enigmatic version of 'Black Birds All Over' that uses far-away pads to generate a more uncanny mood. 'Skandha' is a piece of nonconformist techno that uses broken drum patterns and eerie fx screams throughout. Order & Devotion owner Kwartz reworks 'Skandha' to a recognizable and powerful dark dancefloor version

Jurek Przedziecki's solo Epi Centrum project thunders back with a brand new LP out on Damon Wild's Synewave Records imprint. After a handful of enthusiastically received (supported by, among others, Laurent Garnier, DJ Hell and Joey Beltram) records on numerous renowned Euro labels, Warsaw-based classically trained composer and Buchla System 200e aficionado, delivers. a massive dose of muscular-yet obsessively detailed acid funk techno. His 8-tracker "Excrescence" mixes old and new, tapping on seminal Detroit retrofuturism and heavy-duty pounding mania. One can also hear ghostly echoes of his 90s post-industrial faves like Coil or SPK. Record, quite varied in itself, ranging from relentless bangers ('Association') to mental acid cuts ('Blaming Others') and slow bass pulsations ('Limited Useful Life'), should fit nicely in the Synewave repertoire. Simply unmissable

Up next on Ellien Alien's newly launched UFO Inc. is none other than Milton Bradley under his Alien Rain alias. The four tracks on 'The Arrival' pick up on the cosmic aesthetics of Ellen Alien's own 'UFO' EP and combine them with a hefty dose of Berlin-style techno. A true master of the contemporary acid sound, Alien Rain once again proves to be one of the genre's major driving forces
