From his earliest works on Ai Records through a prolific run on Modern Love to his more recent outings on Delsin, Mark Stewart has continually presented a vision of electronic music that uses the Detroit blueprint as a launch pad for his own distinctive strain of techno. Moving from elegant beauty to rabid intensity while grounded by a firm sense of rhythm, his catalogue runs deep and wide. This expansive compilation filters out select highlights from across his discography, and reframes them as a compelling overview of a truly distinctive voice in modern electronic music

	TECHNO		NLD
A1	BAR04 focusses on Venderstrook, a mysterious duo from the exotic lands of Alphen aan den Rijn. The EP starts with 'Espionage', a tribalist DIY distorted electronics track while the other original, 'Escargothic' sounds like an eerie halloween on ketamine. Two of our dear friends remixed the tracks. Pasiphaë made a super dark goth version of 'Espionage' and Sacha Mambo returns to the label with a cheerful clubversion of 'Escargothic'

BLUEPRINT	TRUNCATE aka DAVID FLORES - THE BELL / INITIALS / TIMBRE	10.00 €
BP055		12"
TECHNO		GBR

A1	LA's Truncate (David Flores) returns to James Ruskin's Blueprint with a new 3-track EP, having made his outstanding debut on the label back in 2017 with 'Terminal 5'. 'The Bell / Initials / Timbre' comes off the back of continued deep and raw releases on his own self-filled Truncate label, his recent 'Truncei8ht EP' for Eats Everything and Andre Campo's E8ht, which reached the Top 10 of Beatport's Techno 100 Chart, and a remix of Spencer Parker for Radio Slave's Rekids (due September). As a persistently in-demand DJ, Truncate has spent the summer touring the US, South America, Asia and Europe, with further gigs coming up this autumn at renowned clubs like Glasgow's Sub Club, Belfast's Shine and London's fabric, amongst others. His new EP for Blueprint has been receiving early support from Ben Sims and of course label head, James Ruskin. Over its 3 tracks Truncate continues to shape his evolving Truncate sound that he launched in 2011, from the tribal energy of 'The Bell', via the piquant twang of 'Initials', to the deep sensibilities of 'Timbre'

CLONE BASEMENT SERIES	ALDEN TYRELL - VORM VARIATIES 1: LASH OUT / GAME THEORY	14.60 €
CBS026.1		12"
TECHNO		REPRESS / Green Transparent Vinyl

A1	1st release in Alden Tyrell's latest project: "Vorm Variaties", a 5 release series consisting of tracks recorded in the last 2 years. The "Vorm Variaties" tracks were a "Style Exercise" for Tyrell, flexing his producer muscle while health issues forced him to stop touring. Initially he had no intention to release these tracks but we found them so good that we were almost forced to start this series. All tracks selected are variations on classic techno forms, using classic style ingredients and the 909. All 5 "Variaties" are different in style, yet all homogenous, all with Alden Tyrell's sound signature... on point production skills and stripped down arrangements

A1 A2 B1 B2	Mysterious German producer His Master's Voice makes his debut on Delsin Records. With three mind bending originals plus an absorbing Vril rework his entry on the Delsin e-series is a deeply immersive beat trip into another dimension. The roughed edged ambiance of 'Fire Red' opens the dance in soothing yet engaging fashion with superbly spacious soundscapes pulling you in and slowly involving into a foggy kick drum extravaganza. 'Eve' then offers a deep and propulsive electro groove with glitchy atmospheres. Lead track 'Transition' hits hard, an intergalactic trip on turbulent stuttering drums and whipping synths. To finalize an immersive EP, close friend Vril jumps in for a rework of 'Eve' where he smoothly connects the dots between his typical dark bass lines and blistering dub chords

A1 A2 B1 B2	Aquarian and Deapmash return as AQXDM for their Houndstooth debut EP 'Infrared'. Written remotely from Berlin and Caen respectively, this five track EP expands on their now hallmark sound — hypnotic, big room, golden-era rave, 90s jungle and mind-bending techno n' IDM filtered through a high-definition, cinematic lens. Massive kicks, quaking sub bass and blistering breakbeats converge with soaring atmospheric and throwback rave stabs in a wholly modern and heavy-as-hell package. The Good Old Days Are Tomorrow ! Championed by the likes of Aphex Twin, Skee Mask, Call Super, Zenker Brothers

	M-PLANT	LYRIC HOOD - NINETEEN / 11:11	10.40 €
	MPM33		12"
	TECHNO / DETROIT	USA
A1	Lyric (Lyric Hood) delivers her debut solo release for M-Plant this summer. Having joined her father, Robert Hood to become an integral part of Floorplan both on the road and in the studio a few years ago, the two have collaborated on the 'Victorious' album and all consequent Floorplan releases so it was only a matter of time before she was ready to step into the solitary spotlight. Back in 2016 when Floorplan became a duo, she stated: "Music is in my soul, my blood, I eat and sleep beats, music, rhythms, it's in my DNA." An early taste of her independent skills came in 2017 when she remixed 'Never Grow Old', but now it's time for Lyric to take centre stage with two original tracks. 'Nineteen', which just happens to be the age Lyric was when she first joined Floorplan, delivers elements of their signature sound but also provides an insight into the personal ideas that she brings to that mix. With a housey inclination, it's deep, funky and yet still tough. For the flipside, '11:11' delivers such a powerful Techno punch it must reflect her unique upbringing and tutelage

NORTHERN ELECTRONICS	ANTHONY LINELL - CORE FIELD HORIZON: CRYSTAL STORMS / CORE FIELD HORIZON / EVAPORING ENTITIES / NOT PRESENT, AETERNA	14.60 €
NE67		12"
TECHNO / DEEP-TECHNO		SWE

This time Anthony Linell cuts his peerless supply four ways in four tracks. Short on hubris, and economical to the point of being cruel, 'Core Field Horizon' relents in all the right places to make the effects of its peaks and troughs impossible to defend against. The opening track is a deluge. Spinning on its hydro-blasted synth line, the gravitational pull erases and ensnares in equal disordering measure. On its heel is the EP's title track, an austere display of the venom in the seam between his club-focused work and his experimental output. 'Evaporating Entities' is one of Linell's most diaphanous works to date, and after weaving through the sky we are abruptly subjected to the gravity of the closing track's nerves

NORTHERN ELECTRONICS	VARG2 TM - FUCK VARG	14.60 €
NE68		12"
TECHNO / INDUSTRIAL / EXPERIM.		SWE

Fuck Varg' is Varg2TM—the artist formerly known as Varg—at his most chaotic and ornate. Streamlining a plethora of techniques and motifs into his inimitable and fearless style, there's reckless charm and misanthropy turbulently sequenced to perfection. Charting a route through the cybergothic psychedelia of the opening track, to the wistful anthemic charge of 'Thirst (Dressed in Nothing But UV Paint and Biodegradable Glitter)', and finally landing on the peak dead-eyed sermon of 'Parasites (Honest Music for Dishonest People) ft. G19', the digital EP's presentation rounds off on a lean and severe remix from VTSS. It's an EP of restlessness, ruins, and ecstatic keyboard mashing because there's not an emoji that's demonic enough

	PX002		12"
	TECHNO / ACID		ISL
A1	The next Planet X invasion is underway! Four mutated and banging hybrids have joined forces for the ultimate techno takeover. First up is Q-Cumb, a former vegetable farmer from the southern parts of Iceland known for excellent cucumbers. Since he fled his homeland he has gained a notorious reputation in the world of electronic music all over the world. He is known as Odinn, cucumb45, Bbbbbb, kid mistik, slurp gurken, icelandic lamb, orange juice man, gurb, q-cumb, holidayboy slurp and last but not least, Bjarki. His track, Dreamers, is considered the track of the year by those who have experienced it on the dancefloors of the united consciousness. Lafontaine was spawned on the Icelandic highlands and channels Iceland's musical energy through his earthy connections. His tune, Alienated, describes his existence where he fights on a daily basis to combine his music with his daily life. The result is a musical outbreak consisting of terrestrial techno with an experimental feel. ThizOne cooks up the electro-mixture Bolt which is a political anthem that describes his anger towards Icelandic politics
